

CALL FOR NOMINATION

Department of Sociology

R. Stephen Warner Faculty Award for Excellence in Teaching
2016

The Department of Sociology R. Stephen Warner Faculty Teaching Award recognizes a faculty member who has achieved excellence in teaching in the field of Sociology. Eligible faculty reflect the following qualities in their teaching:

- Superior teaching and service to students.
- Ability to communicate knowledge effectively and present a high quality of classroom instruction.
- Inspire students to have a love of learning.
- Willingness to go “beyond the call of duty” in all areas of their work which fosters strong student relationships.

Nomination deadline: March 18, 2016

Instructions for Nomination and Submission:

1. Faculty members may be nominated, through a letter of nomination, by undergraduate students, graduate students, or fellow faculty in the Department of Sociology at the University of Illinois at Chicago. Nominations must be submitted by March 18, 2016 as one PDF attachment to <https://uicsociology.wufoo.com/forms/r-stephen-warner-faculty-award/>.
2. Nominated faculty will be notified immediately. Upon nomination, faculty should prepare supporting materials including a teaching statement, syllabi, supporting course materials, course evaluations, and any other relevant materials.
3. All completed supporting materials must be received no later than April 4, 2016. Please turn them in as one PDF document as an attachment in an email to the Sociology Department at <https://uicsociology.wufoo.com/forms/r-stephen-warner-faculty-award/>