

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

UIC Department of Sociology

David P. Street Dissertation Prize in Engaged Sociology 2020

The Department of Sociology at the University of Illinois at Chicago is pleased to announce its call for nominations for the David P. Street Dissertation Prize in Engaged Sociology. This award is intended to recognize excellence in dissertation research in the Department. In keeping with the spirit and wishes of the family of David P. Street, a former Head of the Department and an outstanding sociologist, this award is intended specifically to honor an outstanding dissertation completed since August 2017 that deals directly with issues of engaged sociology. The Award carries a monetary prize of $1,000.00.

Submission deadline: April 8, 2020

Instructions for Submission:

1. All graduate students who received their doctoral degree since August 2018 are eligible for this Award.
2. Letters of nominations must be submitted by the dissertation chair.
3. Nominated Individuals will be notified immediately. Upon notification, students must submit a five-page summary of the dissertation. The summary must provide a concise description of the content of the work along with an explanation for the ways in which the work represents engaged sociology.
4. Nominations and supporting materials should be sent as a PDF attachment to the Sociology Department by emailing socstudentworker@gmail.com.

Questions regarding the award should be directed to Lisa Berube at Lberub2@uic.edu
